WELCOME to a special edition of the DSG Newsletter!! You will find the layout somewhat different this month with pages 2, 3, 4 and 5 advertising all of the exciting upcoming events surrounding our Bazaar.

DSG at Makutano House

DSG members were treated to a different kind of coffee morning when Anne Clarke, hostess of the October meeting, arranged for our group to have a tour of the newly opened Makutano House. We thank Anne for her effort in arranging the coffee and treats to be transported to a unique setting.

We thank Rachel for the venue and speaking about the history of the new Makutano House and for providing a glimpse of some activities that are offered, such as African Dance.

The next DSG coffee morning meeting will be held on Wednesday, November 10th.

Mrs. Huwaida Kalo will host at the Sudanese Residence.

The White Elephant stall is a second hand stall which has a good reputation with all who come to the DSG bazaar for a good bargain. We price our items inexpensively and draw large crowds.

The Boutique: Your good quality items will be accordingly priced and nicely displayed in a specially marked area.

All funds raised will be used for charity. If you have any of these items or know someone who does,

Projects Committee Report - Judy Wiesinger

As the date of the bazaar approaches, I hope you have all had a chance to take a look at the Projects section of the DSG website (www.dsgdar.org). It will give you a good idea of what the Projects Committee does, and the types of projects that the DSG has supported during 2010 and in previous years. As you know, it is the proceeds raised at the forthcoming bazaar that will be used to fund the projects in 2011. The more we raise, the more projects we'll be able to support with larger amounts of money!

The applications for funding in 2011 are due by 31 January. If you are aware of an organisation that would like to be considered for DSG funding, please refer them to the our website for further information about how to apply, or have them write to the chair of the Projects Committee at dsgprojects@live.com.

At the meeting on 10 November our project-of-the-month will be (Re)Claim Women's Space in Zanzibar. Munira Humoud Said, will be coming over from Unguja to tell us about the work of the project that now owns the Women & Heritage Centre in Stone Town. There, within the World Heritage site, women are able to implement programmes that will enhance their visibility in conservation, story-telling and small-scale production efforts. In 2010, the DSG provided funds to rehabilitate a toilet facility at the Centre.

EXPATRIATE SPOUSE ADJUSTMENT

Thursday November 18th at 9:30 at the Alliance Française.

The Alliance Française is behind the Las Vegas Casino, on Ali Hassan Mwinyi Road, third light after Selander Bridge heading downtown. Park in the Las Vegas Casino parking.

This presentation is not only for newcomers to Dar es Salaam, but also for every expatriate spouse who wants to better understand his or her feelings and reactions during and after an international move. Spouses of expatriate employees are no longer called "trailing spouses", but are considered "accompanying partners". They are the pillar of the family balance... and as a consequence, they need to properly take care of themselves.

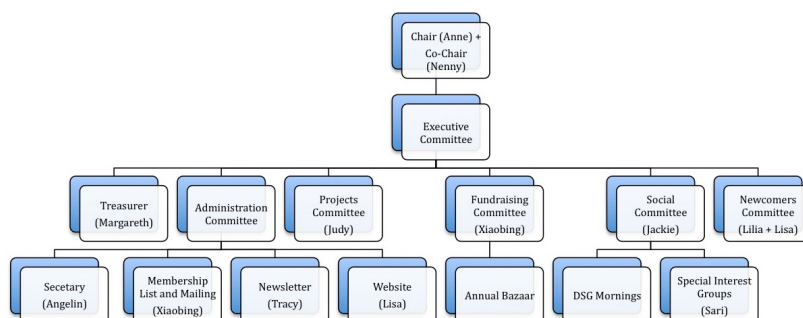

Using a number of examples, we will describe the reality of culture shock and its normal ups and downs. We will explore how every new expatriation is an "identity transition". Finally, we will identify how to prepare ourselves for that process and how to look for our right personal path. Expatriation in Tanzania can become a new positive step in your life.

Marine de Labriolle is a third culture adult and a daughter and mother of third culture kids. She has lived and worked on four continents for more than twenty years. She started her expatriate career as a nurse and anthropologist, then as a parent educator and eventually as a counselor.
